

The Project

PHOTOS for HEALTH: Call for SubmissionsBy adniloj
19 May 2008

A Call for submissions! in three contests!

Do you have one of those serene, beautiful, peaceful captures you're looking to send somewhere & make a difference in someone's life? If so, I've the perfect place for you to submit that photo! Submit an entry to the "Photos for Health" project & you may be able to put a smile on someone's face with a permanent installation!

This unique art initiative is sponsored by the Clarian Health Network which consists of specialized hospitals in the U.S. The project consists three photo contests in which you have the opportunity to make a difference for a long, long time.

The project aims to display one-of-a-kind original photographs derived from nature. Winning originals will be permanently installed in the network's various facilities, improving the lives of patients, families, health care professionals.

